

Independent Reading Log

7th Grade Book –

8th Grade Book – Of Mice and Men

Requirements:

- The key to a good reading log is accurate records, and the final reading log you submit must be word processed (double spaced with 1" margins on all sides and either size 12 Times New Roman or Arial font)

- Each Friday, you should update your reading log. For each required piece of reading (see above), you are required to include the following elements:
 1. The title of the piece
 2. The author of the piece
 3. The date the reading took place, the number of pages you read (book) or the number of words in the story (article), and the approximate amount of time you spent reading.
 4. A summary of what you read: summarize the main points of the article, or write about the major plot developments and character interactions.
 5. A reaction to what you read: respond to what you read. I should see phrases like "I feel," "I believe," "I thought" and other phrases related to your opinion of what you read.
 6. How the theme of the book and/or the major characters reflect our unit theme.
